Eargasm Open Air 2008 is one of the 300 festivals that cooperate with Earthdance, the worldwide festival for peace and humanitarian help. The defining moment of each Earthdance event is a synchronized link-up when every event around the world plays "the prayer for peace" at the same time. As a charity, Eargasm will fund the building of the first secondary school for girls in the province Tabora (Tanzania) called the Bollé Bollé-project.
